Proposal for a

COUNCIL DECISION

on the signing, on behalf of the European Union, of the Food Assistance Convention

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1) Background

The Food Aid Convention (FAC 1999) is a multilateral agreement which came originally into effect in the 1960s as an instrument for a coordinated and acceptable disposal of agricultural surpluses from developed countries to developing countries in need. The FAC 1999 was initially to remain in force until 30 June 2002 and has been extended five times, with the latest extension running until 30 June 2012.

On 14 December 2010, the Parties to the FAC 1999 - the USA, Canada, Japan, Switzerland, Australia and the EU - agreed to negotiate a new convention that would aim at providing appropriate and effective food assistance to vulnerable populations, based on identified needs.

On the basis of the recommendation submitted by the Commission to the Council, the Council authorised the Commission to open negotiations for a new Food Assistance Convention.

On 25 April 2012 the negotiations were successfully completed.

2) Nature of the Food Assistance Convention (FAC 2012)

The FAC 2012 reflects a modernised approach to food assistance. It aims at responding to food and nutrition needs of vulnerable populations in an effective and efficient manner, going beyond the mere provision of food aid, in keeping with the EU's Humanitarian Food Assistance Policy (SEC(2010)374). Other key elements are improved access to and consumption of adequate, safe and nutritious food on the basis of proper needs analysis, an approach based on (humanitarian) principles and full respect for WTO obligations. The Convention will be implemented by means of annual commitments in kind or in cash to be made by Parties.

The FAC 2012 will enter into force on 1 January 2013 if, by 30 November 2012, five Signatories have ratified the Convention. The Convention will be open for signature from 11 June till 31 December 2012; it will also be open for signature and ratification by individual EU Member States, making commitments stemming directly from their respective budgets.

There is likely to be a time gap between the expiry date of the current FAC 1999 (30 June 2012) and the likely date of entry into force of the Food Assistance Convention (1 January 2013). The question of a possible further extension of the FAC 1999 will be formally addressed by the Food Aid Committee at its meeting in June 2012. A proposal from the Commission to the Council authorising the Commission, on behalf of the EU, not to support a further extension of the FAC 1999 is pending before the Council.

3) Procedure

The Commission considers the results of the negotiations to be satisfactory and in accordance with the negotiating directives from the Council and requests therefore the Council to sign the Food Assistance Convention, on behalf of the European Union, subject to its conclusion.

FOOD ASSISTANCE CONVENTION

PREAMBLE

The Parties to this Convention,

Recognising that vulnerable populations have particular food and nutritional needs;

Affirming that States have the primary responsibility for their own national food security, and therefore for the progressive realisation of the right to adequate food as set out in the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) Voluntary Guidelines to support the Progressive Realization of the Right to Adequate Food in the Context of National Food Security adopted by the FAO Council in November 2004;

Encouraging governments of food insecure countries to develop and implement country-owned strategies that address the root causes of food insecurity through long-term measures, and that ensure proper linkages between relief, recovery and development activities;

Referring to the Principles and Good Practice of Humanitarian Donorship, endorsed in Stockholm on 17 June 2003;

Article 1

Objectives

The objectives of this Convention are to save lives, reduce hunger, improve food security, and improve the nutritional status of the most vulnerable populations by:

- (a) addressing the food and nutritional needs of the most vulnerable populations through commitments made by the Parties to provide food assistance that improves access to, and consumption of, adequate, safe and nutritious food;
- (b) ensuring that food assistance provided to the most vulnerable populations is appropriate, timely, effective, efficient, and based on needs and shared principles; and
- (c) facilitating information-sharing, cooperation, and coordination, and providing a forum for discussion in order to improve the effective, efficient, and coherent use of the Parties' resources to respond to needs.

Article 2

Principles of Food Assistance

The Parties, in providing and delivering food assistance to the most vulnerable populations, should always adhere to the following principles:

- (a) General principles of food assistance:
  - (i) provide food assistance only when it is the most effective and appropriate means of addressing the food or nutrition needs of the most vulnerable populations;
  - (ii) provide food assistance, taking into account the long-term rehabilitation and development objectives of the recipient countries, while supporting the broader goal of achieving food security, whenever appropriate;
  - (iii) provide food assistance in a manner that protects livelihoods and strengthens the self-reliance and resilience of vulnerable populations, and local communities, and that prevents, prepares for, mitigates and responds to food security crises;
  - (iv) provide food assistance in such a way as to avoid dependency and minimise direct and indirect negative impacts on beneficiaries and others;
  - (v) provide food assistance in a way that does not adversely affect local production, market conditions, marketing structures and commercial trade or the price of essential goods for vulnerable populations;
  - (vi) provide food aid in fully grant form, whenever possible;
- (b) Principles of food assistance effectiveness:
  - (i) in order to increase the amount available to spend on food assistance for vulnerable populations and to promote efficiency, minimise associated costs as much as possible;

- (ii) actively seek to cooperate, coordinate and share information to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of food assistance programs, and the coherence between food assistance and related policy areas and instruments;
  - (iii) purchase food and other components of food assistance locally or regionally, whenever possible and appropriate;
  - (iv) increasingly provide untied cash-based food assistance, whenever possible and based on needs;
  - (v) only monetise food aid where there is an identified need to do so, and to improve the food security of vulnerable populations; base monetisation on transparent and objective market analysis and avoid commercial displacement;
  - (vi) ensure food assistance is not used to promote the market development objectives of the Parties;
  - (vii) avoid re-exportation of food aid to the maximum extent possible except to prevent or respond to an emergency situation; only re-export food aid in a manner that avoids commercial displacement;
  - (viii) acknowledge, where appropriate, that relevant authorities or relevant stakeholders have the primary role and responsibility for the organisation, coordination and implementation of food assistance operations;
- (c) Principles on the provision of food assistance:
- (i) target food assistance according to the food and nutrition needs of the most vulnerable populations;
  - (ii) involve beneficiaries in the assessment of their needs and in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of food assistance, as well as other relevant stakeholders, where appropriate;

- (iii) provide food assistance that meets applicable safety and quality standards, and that respects cultural and local dietary habits and the nutritional needs of the beneficiaries;
- (iv) uphold the dignity of beneficiaries of food assistance;
- (d) Principles of food assistance accountability:
  - (i) take specific and appropriate measures to strengthen the accountability and transparency of food assistance policies, programs, and operations;
  - (ii) monitor, evaluate, and communicate, on a regular and transparent basis, the outcomes and the impact of food assistance activities in order to further develop best practices and maximise their effectiveness.

Article 3

Relationship with WTO Agreements

Nothing in this Convention shall derogate from any existing or future WTO obligations applicable between Parties. In case of conflict between such obligations and this Convention, the former shall prevail. Nothing in this Convention will prejudice the positions that a Party may adopt in any negotiations in the WTO.

Article 4

Eligible Country, Eligible Vulnerable Populations, Eligible Products, Eligible Activities, and Associated Costs

1. “Eligible Country” means any country on the OECD’s Development Assistance Committee (DAC) list of Official Development Assistance Recipients, or any other country identified in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.
2. “Eligible Vulnerable Populations” means vulnerable populations in any Eligible Country.

3. “Eligible Products” means products for human consumption that comply with relevant national policies and legislation of the country of operation, including, as appropriate, applicable international food safety and quality standards as well as products that contribute to meeting food needs and protecting livelihoods in emergency and early recovery situations. The list of Eligible Products is provided in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.
4. Eligible Activities for the fulfilment of a Party’s minimum annual commitment in accordance with Article 5 shall be consistent with Article 1, and shall include at least the following activities:
  - (a) the provision and distribution of Eligible Products;
  - (b) the provision of cash and vouchers; and
  - (c) nutritional interventions.

These Eligible Activities are further elaborated in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.

5. Associated Costs eligible for the fulfilment of a Party’s minimum annual commitment according to Article 5 shall be consistent with Article 1, and shall be limited to costs directly linked to the provision of Eligible Activities, as further elaborated in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.

Article 5

Commitment

1. To meet the objectives of this Convention, each Party agrees to make an annual commitment of food assistance, set in accordance with its laws and regulations. Each Party’s commitment is referred to as its “minimum annual commitment”.
2. The minimum annual commitment shall be expressed in terms of value or quantity as further elaborated in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation. A Party may choose to express either a minimum value or a minimum quantity, or a combination of both for its commitment.

3. Minimum annual commitments in terms of value can be expressed in the currency chosen by the Party. Minimum annual commitments in terms of quantity can be expressed in tonnes of grain equivalent or other units of measure provided under the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.
4. Each Party shall notify the Secretariat of its initial minimum annual commitment as soon as possible and no later than six months following the entry into force of this Convention, or within three months of its accession to this Convention.
5. Each Party shall notify the Secretariat of any change to its minimum annual commitment for subsequent years no later than the fifteenth day of December of the year preceding the change.
6. The Secretariat shall communicate the updated minimum annual commitments to all of the Parties as soon as possible and no later than the first day of January of each year.
7. Contributions made to meet minimum annual commitments should be made in fully grant form whenever possible. With respect to food assistance counted towards a Party's commitment, not less than 80 per cent provided to Eligible Countries and Eligible Vulnerable Populations, as further elaborated in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation, shall be in fully grant form. To the extent possible, the Parties shall seek progressively to exceed this percentage. Contributions that are not made in fully grant form should be accounted for in each Party's annual report.
8. The Parties shall undertake to conduct all food assistance transactions under this Convention in such a way as to avoid harmful interference with normal patterns of production and international commercial trade.
9. The Parties shall ensure that the provision of food assistance is not tied directly or indirectly, formally or informally, explicitly or implicitly, to commercial exports of agricultural products or other goods and services to recipient countries.
10. To meet its minimum annual commitment, whether expressed in value or quantity, a Party shall make contributions that are consistent with this Convention and that consist of funding for Eligible Products and Activities, and Associated Costs, as set forth in Article 4, and as further elaborated in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.

11. Contributions provided to meet the minimum annual commitment under this Convention may only be directed at Eligible Countries or Eligible Vulnerable Populations, as set forth in Article 4 and as further elaborated in the Rules of Procedure and Implementation.
12. The Parties' contributions may be provided bilaterally, through intergovernmental or other international organisations, or through other food assistance partners, but not through other Parties.
13. Each Party shall make every effort to meet its minimum annual commitment. If a Party is unable to meet its minimum annual commitment for a particular year, it shall describe the circumstances of its failure to do so in its annual report for that year. The unfulfilled amount shall be added to the Party's minimum annual commitment for the following year unless the Committee established under Article 7 decides otherwise, or unless extraordinary circumstances justify not doing so.
14. If a Party's contribution exceeds its minimum annual commitment, the amount of the excess, but not more than five per cent of its minimum annual commitment, may be counted as part of the Party's contribution for the following year.

Article 6

Annual Reporting and Information Sharing

1. Within ninety days after the end of the calendar year, each Party shall provide an annual report, in accordance with the Rules of Procedure and Implementation, to the Secretariat, detailing how it met its minimum annual commitment under this Convention.
2. This annual report shall contain a narrative component that may include information on how the Party's food assistance policies, programs and operations contribute to the objectives and principles of this Convention.
3. The Parties should, on an ongoing basis, exchange information on their food assistance policies and programs and the results of their evaluations of these policies and programs.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

The EU has been the driving force pushing for the negotiation of the Food Aid Convention 1999. This effort has been made in line with EU Humanitarian Food Assistance Policy, which promotes the most effective and efficient mix of tools to respond to a specific crisis.

The new Convention reflects a modern approach to food assistance and has a humanitarian focus, envisaging short term activities of one year maximum. It aims at improving the effectiveness of food assistance practices and foresees the eligibility of a wider range of food assistance tools (including cash and vouchers). The Convention promotes the provision of food assistance that is firmly needs-based, based on objectively identified needs and sensitive to local contexts. It further promotes the respect for humanitarian principles, encourages local and regional purchase and reflects nutrition concerns in the context of food assistance. It further encourages partnership with stakeholders, includes adequate monitoring and evaluation tools; encourages sharing of best practices.

The new Food Assistance Convention will be open for individual signature and ratification to the EU, the EU Member States and third countries, each taking commitments stemming from their respective budgets. Upon ratification of the Convention, one becomes a party and has to notify the secretariat about one's minimum annual commitment of food assistance, expressed in tonnage and/or value. The minimum annual commitment is flexible and can be modified through notification to the secretariat.

Based on the EU's budget, a conservative approach is envisaged for the European Union's minimum annual commitment, i.e. an amount of EUR 200 million, which corresponds to some 80% of average Humanitarian Food Aid Budget Line over the past few years. Given the Convention's humanitarian focus, the ex-post reporting concerns food assistance activities of a short-term nature, which are supported by the EU and eligible to be counted under the Convention. In reality, the fulfilment of the annual minimum commitment and the reporting ex-post primarily concerns humanitarian food assistance activities. Only very specific elements of food security operations may exceptionally be deemed eligible under the Convention but this would have to be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

Each year, a party has to report ex-post on the fulfilment of its annual commitment and the food assistance activities undertaken or supported. The Convention's secretariat draws up a report on the basis of the individual reporting by parties, and this report is subsequently made public. The EU will undertake the reporting on the fulfilment of the EU minimum annual commitments and EU Member States will do a similar individual reporting on the fulfilment of their commitment.

1.4. Objectives

1.4.1. The Commission's multiannual strategic objective(s) targeted by the proposal/initiative

(a) Giving the EU an effective voice in the wider world.

1.4.3. Expected result(s) and impact

Specify the effects which the proposal/initiative should have on the beneficiaries/groups targeted.

In line with the EU policy on Humanitarian Food Assistance, the new Food Assistance Convention encourages the use of innovative food assistance tools and enhances the effectiveness of food assistance practices, based on objectively identified needs; sensitive to local contexts; includes adequate monitoring and evaluation tools; and encourages sharing of best practices of the Food Assistance Convention (FAC).

"Predictability" lies in particular in the fact that donors who become parties to the Convention commit themselves to a determined level of food assistance support per year. They are also held accountable on the basis of annual report that will be made public.

1.4.4. Indicators of results and impact

Specify the indicators for monitoring implementation of the proposal/initiative.

Donors becoming parties to the FAC commit themselves to a determined level of food assistance support per year; they are held accountable on the basis of annual report that will be made public (though no sanctions foreseen for non-fulfilment).

1.5. Grounds for the proposal/initiative

1.5.1. Requirement(s) to be met in the short or long term

Ensure that the most effective and efficient food assistance is put in place and/or supported by main donors to respond to food and nutrition needs of the most vulnerable based on identified needs and with respect of fundamental principles and in compliance with WTO obligations.

1.5.2. Added value of EU involvement

- The EU, one of the main humanitarian food assistance donors, has together with EU Member States advocated for the renegotiation of the Food Aid Convention, 1999 and have been the main driver of the process towards a modern Food Assistance Convention both at EU and international level, in accordance with the procedure laid down in Article 218 of the TFEU;
- The Food Assistance Convention is instrumental in allowing the EU to pursue at international level, as contemplated by Article 214(4) TFEU, the advancement of its humanitarian aid policy objectives as laid down in Article 214(1) TFEU.
- The EU involvement contributes to foster greater coherence between EU and Member States food assistance related activities;
- Action at the international level, under the auspices of the Food Assistance Convention, lays down the conditions for greater transparency and predictability of food assistance related actions;

- In response to food and nutrition insecurity needs, the EU has encouraged the move from a merely product-based approach to a more varied approach, using a broader, more appropriate mix of response tools.

- The EU's actions at international level, in the context of the Food Assistance Convention, together with other major international donors, will contribute to engage further other donors a view to fostering a modernised approach to food assistance.

1.5.3. Lessons learned from similar experiences in the past

DG ECHO experience on the involvement of the EU in international conventions and fora on food assistance-related matters relate (in particular to the Food Aid Convention, 1999 to which the EU has been party) led to the following lessons being drawn, which contributed to the EU's push towards a modernised international instrument to support food assistance policy: the clear focus on meeting in the most efficient and effective manner beneficiaries' needs is confirmed to be at the forefront (as opposed to the need, in the past, of donating to dispose of excessive food supplies); the need to allow time for all parties to adjust existing instrument to reflect the new needs and try to meet them through a modernised policy approach.

1.5.4. Coherence and possible synergy with other relevant instruments

Trade and Agriculture. The new Convention will be WTO compatible and fosters best practices that seek to minimize the distorting or harmful effects on local populations, markets and the broader society.

For the time being, the secretariat of the Convention will be the International Grains Council, which is established and financed by the Grains Trade Convention, that is managed by the European Commission (DG AGRI).

Where appropriate and feasible, synergies with the Food Security Thematic Programme under the DCI will be sought to foster longer-term solutions to food and nutrition security.
